

The Canadian Institute for Women in Engineering and Sciences (CIWES)

Catalyze research and action

The Institute was created in 2007 under the name of INWES-Education and Research Institute.

The organisation name was changed in 2019 for The Canadian Institute for Women in Engineering and Sciences (CIWES).

The Institute was incorporated the 29th of November 2007 under the Canada Corporations Act. It was designated as a Charitable Organization on the 28th of February 2008 (BN #826902751 RR 0001). Its activities are conducted through a board of directors and committees.

CIWES Objectives

The Institute catalyzes research and action to advance the education and success of women in science, technology, engineering, and mathematics (STEM) fields through the following activities:

- Create and maintain an online resource center (hub) and database for information concerning education in STEM fields.
- Promote the contributions of past and present women in STEM to increase the visibility of role models.
- Foster and disseminate research concerning STEM fields as both an educational and career choice.

CIWES main Project

The Canadian Archive of Women in STEM

Visit the Portal <https://femmes-en-stim-women-in-stem.uottawa.ca/index.php/>

Profiles of Women in STEM

Research Portal

Making a donation to CIWES

Your donation will help advance the education and success of women in STEM fields and fulfill our objectives. A Charity Receipt will be provided upon request.

Please contact ciwes.icfis@gmail.com